Pronto! Agora é só começar a pesquisar!

The image shows the MIT Press Direct website interface. At the top left is the MIT Press Direct logo. To its right is a search bar with the text "Search...". Further right are links for "All Content" with a dropdown arrow, "Advanced Search", "Register", "Universidade Federal do Rio de Janeiro (UFRJ)" with a dropdown arrow, and "Sign In" with a dropdown arrow. Below the search bar is a navigation menu with "Books" (dropdown), "Journals" (dropdown), and "About MIT Press Direct".

The main content area features a large "Direct to Open" banner on the left. The banner has a black background with white and grey geometric patterns. It includes the text "Direct to Open" in a large font, with "D2" and "O" in a stylized font. Below this, it says "Direct to Open" in a smaller font, followed by "Instead of purchasing scholarly eBooks once for a single collection, libraries now have the opportunity to fund them once for the world." and a green "Learn More" button.

On the right side of the main content area, there are three sections:

- Browse Books: "Read more than 3,000 eBooks from the MIT Press" with an image of two blue 3D cubes.
- Browse Journals: "Explore our catalog of over forty titles" with an image of a complex network diagram.
- For Librarians: "Access resources for making the most of your collections" with an image of a modern library interior.

At the bottom of the page, there is a cookie consent banner that reads: "This site uses cookies. By continuing to use our website, you are agreeing to our privacy policy. Accept".
